It is therefore to such as have the guidance of the young, that these lines are addressed, in the hope of proving to them that this study is not merely pleasant, but useful - nay, important in the last degree. It is the sacred office of the true educator to arouse the inquiring faculties of the young mind - to develop every thought and feeling; and can this be better done than by directing the attention to the wondrous wisdom displayed in the works of Nature, and to the infinite mercy by which each animal, however lowly, lives, moves, and fulfils its purpose in the great scheme of the creation?
